THE GYPSY MOTHS

Are Very Plentiful In This Section

SO MR. ROGERS TELLS GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL

Rye Most Seriously Threatened Town In The State

PLAN FOR THE EXTERMINATION OF THE PESTS ADOPTED

D. M. Rogers, in charge of the national campaign against the brown-tail and gypsy moths, and Prof. B. D. Sanderson of New Hampshire College appeared before the Governor and council in Concord on Wednesday. The meeting was almost entirely devoted to the insect pest problem and to discussions of the best methods of expending the state appropriation of $25,000.

The experts clearly outlined the situation in New Hampshire and sketched the progress of the war against the pests in Massachusetts. Several men with plans for the extermination of the insects were also heard.

Mr. Rogers told where the moths are most plentiful. Since last summer, except when the snow was too deep for work, fifteen government experts have been searching for gypsy moths in the southeastern part of this state. In twenty-five out of twenty-six towns visited in Rockingham, Strafford and Hillsborough counties, gypsy moths were found, but there was no trace of them in the other counties.

Concord is absolutely free of this pest and Manchester nearly so. Rye, Hampton and Seabrook are the towns most seriously threatened, although there are gypsy moths in all the towns of this immediate vicinity. In Rye alone, 1,500 trees are infested, conditions there being worse than in any other town in the state. On one tree in Rye 154 nests were found.

A map has been made showing all the infested towns and every infested tree.

Mr. Rogers thought that the enforcement of the new state law would result in the ultimate extermination of the brown-tail moths. In his opinion, the entire state appropriation should be expended in fighting the gypsy moths and he suggested burlapping all infested trees. Experienced men should do the work, he insisted. The employment of school boys was frowned upon.

Prof. Sanderson seconded the suggestions of Mr. Rogers.

The Governor and council voted to adopt the burlapping method and to enter upon a contract with a Boston firm. The work will be started at once and the cooperation of property owners is urged.

After the insect pest problem had been temporarily disposed of, a number of appointments were made.

Gen. Jason E. Tolles of Nashua was reappointed to the state forestry commission and Dr. George Cook of Concord, Dr. George W. Flagg of Keene and Dr. F. L. Gerald of Warren were given reappointments to the state board of medical examiners.

Action on two petitions for pardons for men serving sentences in the state prison was deferred until the next meeting.

Senator John B. Cavanaugh of Manchester appeared in behalf of P. J. Kelley, who began in 1901 a sentence of nine years for statutory rape. Chief of Police Healey of Manchester argued against the petition.

Sheriff Bert Wentworth of Dover asked for a pardon for John Williams, one of those responsible for a remarkable exhibition of gun play in Dover on July 4 several years ago. The petition was opposed by County Solicitor Dwight Hall of the same city.

WAGES ADVANCED

Carpenters Are To Receive More Money

AN INCREASE FOR FIRST CLASS MEN

Master Builders Consider A Request And Grant It

MASONS, ALSO, DEMAND AND RECEIVE HIGHER DAILY STIPENDS

Portsmouth carpenters are to receive an advance in wages; that is, their wages will be increased if they are first class carpenters, otherwise they will be forced to work for the old wages, which have been in force for four years.

At the last meeting of the Master Builders' Association, the request of the carpenters for higher wages was very fully considered and it was decided that, all things considered, the request was one which should be granted.

The master builders, however, were unwilling to grant an indiscriminate advance. In the case of men who are not experts at their trade, the opinion was advanced that the old wages were sufficiently high. Strictly first class carpenters, however, will receive more money, their wages being advanced from $2.50 to $2.75 a day.

The masons of Portsmouth will also receive more money in future. Heretofore, they have worked for $3.65 a day, but on May 1 they announced that hereafter those who employ them will be forced to pay $4.00 for their services. It happens that the masons are so thoroughly unionized that there was nothing to do but accept the ultimatum and pay the wages demanded.

To this demand of the masons was in a great measure due the willingness of the master builders to grant the request of the carpenters. It was felt that it would not be fair to require the carpenters to work at the old figures, in view of the advance given, perforce, to the masons.

In the past, in exceptional cases, carpenters have been paid $2.75 a day, and even more, but the men given these exceptional wages were those regarded as especially valuable to their employers. The recognized rate for a first class man has been $2.50 a day.

CHANCE FOR ALL

Everyone Who Wishes To Contribute May Do So

The work of soliciting for the New England veteran firemen's muster was begun today (Wednesday). Those in charge of the work will endeavor to call upon everyone, but it is possible that some may be overlooked. People who wish to aid who may not receive calls from the solicitors may leave their contributions with F. W. Hartford at the office of The Herald.

NO REASON

For Involving Judge Hanna In Eddy Case, Says Chandler

Boston, May 2.—Senator W. E. Chandler stopped over on Wednesday at the Parker House to break his trip from Concord, N. H., to Washington. He said his trip had nothing to do with the Eddy case, which remains where it is for the present, the hearing on the motion now before the court for argument having been postponed as a matter of convenience for Mr. Chandler from May 13 to May 20.

Mr. Chandler did say that he does not intend to join Judge Septimus Hanna as a defendant, simply because so far as the senator knows Judge Hanna is not in possession of any money or property of Mrs. Eddy's which should be turned over to the estate. "If you know of any money or property that Mr. Hanna has that belongs to Mrs. Eddy," said Senator Chandler, "I should be very glad to join him."

A reporter asked whether the death of Mrs. Eddy would make any difference to the status of the suit, and he replied that it would not; that as the suit was simply for a proper accounting of her property, her executor or administrator would step in to demand the accounting.

TROUBLE COMES

To County Commissioners On Account Of Old Toll Bridge

Now that the Newmarket bridge is controlled by the county the troubles of the county commissioners have begun, troubles, too, that they least expected and which should have been looked after long ago by the selectmen of the towns of Newfields and Stratham.

It appears that as far back as 1900 the war department served notice on the selectmen that this bridge was considered an obstruction to navigation and that the towns should make certain alterations and repairs recommended by that department. The selectmen failed to do anything and again on Oct. 15, 1906, the war department sent a crew to inspect the structure.

It was found that much work was necessary and the war department again put the facts up to the towns.

The matter has gone on until now and nothing has been done. The department's officials of engineering at Portland have concluded that something must be done and are getting after the commissioners, who were not informed as county officials that this matter had ever been brought to the attention of the town authorities. The correspondence from the war department came to them brand new and as a startling surprise.

What will be done is a question. The county officials say that the first blow was a hard one and they expect to be kept busy for a while.

NEW PAINT FOR THE CAFE

The railroad station cafe will shortly be painted by a Boston firm. The staking for the work will be erected by Willis F. Kiernan and his crew of this city.

STILL WORKING NIGHTS

The forge company is rushed with orders for forgings for locomotives and other machinery and its men are still working nights on the big hammers, in order to keep up with the great demand from building firms.

PROOF WANTED

Of The Existence Of Helen Seavey Of Portsmouth

The following has been sent to The Herald for publication: As the genealogist of the Seavey family, I am extremely anxious to obtain information regarding a woman named Helen Seavey, who is said to have lived in Portsmouth or vicinity during the Revolutionary War. After many months of the most careful and devoted research, I have been quite unable to discover any trace of her, save in an interesting historical romance by Augustus C. Buell, "Paul Jones, Founder of the American Navy."

I am aware that her name has been coupled with that of Betsey Ross as a maker of the "first" American flag, but if she never existed save in the brain of the ingenious Buell, why should she be permitted to enjoy such distinction? If she ever really did exist, why cannot I have her to adorn the pages of her family's genealogy? I wish to offer a reward of twenty-five dollars for positive proof that Helen Seavey was living in Portsmouth during the Revolution; for the names of her parents and husband and the dates of her birth, marriage and death.

UNUSUALLY QUIET

Was May Day In New England Outside Of Boston

Boston, May 1.—An unusually quiet May day throughout New England, with the exception of this city, was experienced in labor circles on Wednesday. Minor troubles in the building trades in some of the cities and towns were the most discordant notes outside the greater Boston district, where 1,500 men went out for higher wages on Wednesday, while the teamsters' strike, which started a month ago, was still in force with almost daily scenes of disorder.

The majority of the new men who went out were boiler-makers, numbering 1,200. They ask for a ten percent. increase in pay. The cement and asphalt workers to the number of 210 quit work, pending the result of deliberations by their employers regarding a new wage adjustment. In the building trades and other industries an amicable adjustment of existing differences was expected.

AT THE NAVY YARD

The funeral of Pay Director James E. Cann will be held in Portsmouth on Friday afternoon at St. John's Church.

The marine baseball team from the barracks defeated the Southern team ten to two on Wednesday afternoon on the yard grounds. A good crowd witnessed the game and there was some fast playing on both sides.

Some of the numerous bidders on the dry dock seem to have the information that the firm of Samuel Butler and Company has forfeited its bid and that there may be another sale of the dock. Up to date, the yard officials have heard nothing officially from the firm which now has the dock.

The yards and docks department made quite a call for help on Wednesday, the list of those required including two masons, one fireman, ten laborers, six house joiners, first class, and four house carpenters first class.

James A. McClood has returned from a sick leave.

The stone crusher, which has been idle for some time near the coaling plant, will shortly be started up and stone furnished for the roads now being built about the yard.

A crew from the boiler shop was set at work today (Thursday) scaling and painting the boilers of the receiving ship Topeka.

KNIGHTS WENT TO DOVER

The following members of Portsmouth Council attended the ball of the Dover Knights of Columbus in Dover on Wednesday evening: James B. Dorsey, John C. Dolan, Andrew Mullen, Henry Finn and Joseph Tanguay. They report a most excellent time and a royal entertainment on the part of the Dover fraternity. The affair was one of the best of its kind ever held in the city of Dover.

TRouble IN CUBA

United States Sailors Shot Down In Streets

ONE OFFICER AND NINE MEN ATTACKED BY POLICE

Sailors Unarmed And Forced To Fight Armed Police

ONE MAN SHOT THROUGH LUNGS AND SKULL FRACTURED—INVESTIGATION ORDERED

Washington, D. C., May 1.—The navy department this morning received a dispatch from Capt. Tappan, commanding the cruiser Tacoma, confirming last night's press dispatches regarding an attack and wounding of a party of nine men from that vessel by Cuban police at Santiago.

The department will probably not act immediately. Capt. Tappan will make an immediate investigation, and the action of the government will be governed largely by the nature of this report. No official navy officers here do not regard the matter as serious, but Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of navigation, had a conference at noon with Acting Secretary Newberry, when the Santiago incident was taken up. If any decision was reached it was not made public.

The dispatch from Capt. Tappan gave a list of officers and men injured. Of these Ensign A. T. Brishin was the only commissioned officer. His injuries consisted of cuts and bruises, not serious. He is a native of Idaho, but was appointed to the naval academy from Pennsylvania, graduating Feb. 3, 1903. He was commissioned ensign Feb. 3, 1905, Sept. 11, 1905, he was court-martialed and found guilty of "sleeping upon his watch," and the disobedience of orders, and sentenced to lose 50 numbers in his grade. The sentence was remitted by the reviewing authority, and he was restored to duty. He has been attached to the Tacoma since Dec. 14 last.

The names of the other men injured, and the places of their enlistment, as given out by the navy department, follow:

Anders, Elmer E., apprentice seaman, Omaha, Neb., cuts and bruises, but not serious.

Cavender, Glen, seaman, Omaha, Neb., cuts and bruises, but not serious.

Lee, Henry L., fireman, second class, Chicago, Ill., fracture of the skull, gunshot wound to lung; condition serious.

Leghorn, Frank, electrician, first class, navy yard, Puget sound, Washington, cuts and bruises, but not serious.

Pember, Claude J., electrician, third class, Joplin, Mo., incised wound of left forearm, a severe injury.

Shackleton, Charles H., machinist's mate, first class, Kansas City, Mo., cuts and bruises, but not serious.

Sturtevant, Harry J., electrician, first class, Cincinnati, O., cuts and bruises, but not serious.

The police used guns, knives and clubs, while the sailors were unarmed, as they were not permitted to go on shore leave bearing arms of any kind.

DIAMONDS WILL BE HIGH.

Diamond exporters who have returned from Europe within a few days agree in saying that they have been obliged to pay higher prices for diamonds than ever before, and that all American buyers are largely taking all the choice stones they can get.

The output of South African diamonds has been increasing in quantity as well as price, according to the New York dealers. Merely the South African diamond trade has cleared 33 1/2 per cent. profit on its apparently inexhaustible blue chip beds, 2000 feet underground.

RESIGNED AS MANAGER.

George A. Huff, on Tuesday, resigned as manager of the Boston American baseball team, and he will return to the Illinois University as athletic director. Mr. Huff claims that he did not like professional baseball and found his temperament was not suited for the work.

A BOLD STEP.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has absolutely and completely removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

They are now in a class all by themselves—being absolutely and in every sense Non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

So many false formulas and malicious statements concerning his medicines had been published through the connivance of jealous competitors and disgruntled doctors, that Dr. Pierce determined to completely disarm his assailants by a full and frank statement of their exact composition, verifying the same under oath as complete and correct. This he has done and to the complete discomfiture of those who had assailed his good name as well as the well-earned reputation of his world-famed medicines.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this booklet it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, even employed, long years ago by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their women.

In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, and with the use of specially designed chemical apparatus, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health.

THE THEATRICAL FOLK

Mildred Holland Tonight

Mildred Holland, who will be seen at Music Hall this evening, in Matthew Barry's new play "A Paradise of Lies" possesses that peculiar as well as pleasing personality with which few women are endowed. The spectator in watching her work on the stage feels intuitively that within her bones the fire of true dramatic genius. There is about her a magnetism that attracts the most indifferent, and the dispassionate critic targets the woman and sees only the great artist. She lives the part she plays. There can be no higher theatrical art than this. "A Paradise of Lies" gives Miss Holland every opportunity to display her talents. In fact, she has never before had a play which offered such wide range of play upon the human emotions. The action of the play is at the end of the eighteenth century, and its prolog of three acts are laid amid the most beautiful scenes of the Italian land. An atmosphere of romance and intrigue is woven through the play. The eye is rested and satisfied by the grandeur, elegance and rich coloring of costumes and landscape.

The Best of All his appearance the past four seasons at the head of his own company in the Hebrew characterization which won him fame and praise throughout the country. As an impersonator of Jewish character he has no equal and with a large repertoire of clever comedians the fun resulting is fast and spirited enough to draw laughter from the habitual crank.

Doris Goodwin

Dainty Doris Goodwin, prima donna with B. C. Whitney's sparkling musical surprise, "The Isle of Bong Bong," is described by the newspapers as a vivacious little song bird. As "Paquita" in "The Isle of Bong Bong," Miss Goodwin is duplicating her success as Teresa in "The Isle of Spice." Miss Goodwin will be seen with this delightful mixture of color and melody at Music Hall on Monday evening.

A NEW DRAW.

The second New Castle bridge has been closed for extensive overhauling this week and Mayor Urich has had a gang of men at work building a new draw. It is constructed out of live oak timber taken from the old timber dock at the navy yard, and it is as solid a constructed highway draw as any in this section. The work will be finished so that the bridges will be opened on Saturday. The remainder of the bridge will also get a general overhauling.

MURDER IN HAVERHILL

Thomas Murphy Kills His Wife And Tries Suicide

Haverhill, May 1.—Thomas Murphy, a shoemaker, murdered his wife and then tried to commit suicide, here this evening, but it is thought that he will recover to face the court for his crime.

Murphy and his wife moved here some weeks ago from Boston and they have two children, the oldest four years, and the youngest an infant of five weeks.

Some weeks ago Murphy left his family, but he appeared here this week and has been bothering his wife ever since. This evening he got into a quarrel with his wife and, grabbing a butcher knife, he cut her throat and then kicked her down the cellar stairs. He then gashed his own throat with the knife and staggered out into the yard, where he was found by neighbors.

His wife was dead when found and Murphy was still alive but unconscious. He was removed to the hospital where, at a late hour, it is said that he might recover. The children were taken in charge by the neighbors.

Deleated Traip Academy Baseball Team At The Plains Past Commanders Have Their Annual Banquet

Without much difficulty, the Portsmouth High school baseball team defeated the team of Traip Academy at the Plains on Wednesday afternoon, nine to two. In the first three innings the Portsmouth boys scored almost at will and after that gave their attention to the practice of bunting, base stealing and various more or less complicated plays.

Badger pitched well until forced by an injury to retire in the fourth inning. McPheters, who succeeded him, did not over exert himself, but kept the hits scattered. Gerrish, the Kiltory pitcher, was wild at first, but settled down and pitched very good ball.

McPheters, Ham and Brackett did the best work for Portsmouth, although Stockbridge's running catch of a fly in left field was a sensational feature.

Googins, Knight, Gerrish and Cole were Kiltory's stars.

In the absence of Capt. Tredick, Ham had charge of the Portsmouth team on the field.

Though retiring from public life, Lady Henry will carry on her homes at Duxhurst, where she will continue to live. She has been before the public for many years and is almost as well known in America as in England. An unhappy marriage led to a separation from

NEW MANAGEMENT

Takes Charge Of Hotels Rockingham And Wentworth

Manager Frank C. Hall of the Hotels Rockingham and Wentworth, took formal possession of the two hotels on Wednesday, and he was here and passed the day in making arrangements for the opening of the Wentworth.

Mr. Hall, to The Herald representative, stated that Mr. John E. Hughes, the manager under the Jones estate, would remain as resident manager of the Rockingham hotel, and that Mr. Fred E. Jones would be the resident manager of the Wentworth hotel. Mr. Jones has been for years the manager of the fashionable Buckminster hotel in Boston, and he is an experienced hotel man. He was here on Wednesday with Mr. Hall and went over the Wentworth.

Mr. Hall will still retain his office at the Somerset hotel in Boston, but will be in this city several times a week.

It is planned to make extensive alterations at the Rockingham hotel. The most important will be that the billiard hall will be done away with and this will be used as a cafe. The present toilet rooms will be abolished and an entrance made to the kitchen from the Porter street side.

and the cafe will be first-class in every particular. The main house will be given a general overhauling and everything put in first-class order.

At the Wentworth hotel, the big house will be put in first class condition before the opening of the season. No great repairs are needed, as the hotel was given a thorough overhauling last year.

A BRONZE STATUE

To Gen. McClellan To Be Unveiled Today

IMPORTANT CEREMONY AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

President Roosevelt Will Deliver The Principal Address

WIDOW AND SON OF GEN. MCCLELLAN TO BE GUESTS OF HONOR

Washington, May 2.—Amid the enthusiastic demonstrations of a great concourse of people the bronze equestrian statue of Gen. George B. McClellan, the first commander of the Army of the Potomac, will be unveiled today.

The dedication exercises will be preceded by a big military and naval parade, in which all the regular troops in this vicinity, sailors and marines from the Washington navy yard, the National Guard of the District of Columbia and a portion of the National Guard of New Jersey will participate. The regular troops will include infantry, cavalry and artillery from Washington barracks, Fort Washington, Fort Hunt and Fort Myer, with the headquarters band and three battalions of the Twenty-third Infantry from the Jamestown Exposition.

The parade will form early in the afternoon and march via Sixteenth street and Columbia road to the intersection of Kalorama street and Columbia road, where the column will halt during the dedicatory exercises, upon the conclusion of which the march will be continued via Columbia road and Connecticut avenue to Dupont Circle, where the parade will disband. Major Gen. Bell will have command of the troops, with Brig. Gen. Duvall as chief of staff and Capt. W. M. Wright as adjutant general.

The ceremony of unveiling will occur on the reservation on Connecticut avenue in front of the Highlands, where the massive figure of Gen. McClellan has been erected. Surrounding the statue will be great stands to accommodate the many officials and guests invited to take part in the exercises. The stands will be hung with great folds of red, white and blue bunting. Within this amphitheatre will be gathered representatives of every branch of the government, including the President of the United States and members of the Cabinet, the Chief Justice and associate justices of the United States Supreme Court, Senators and Representatives and many of the high officials of the army and navy. Not less notable will be the representation of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, whose thirty-seventh annual reunion is in progress here. The members of the society, with the widow and son of Gen. McClellan, will be the special guests of honor.

President Roosevelt and the members of the Cabinet will be escorted from the White House by a squad of cavalry. Capt. Henry C. Dwight of Hartford, Conn., president of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, will deliver a brief introductory address, and Gen. Horatio C. King of Brooklyn, recording secretary of the society, will give a sketch of the statue.

After an impressive invocation by Bishop Satterlee, President Roosevelt will deliver the address of the day. As the President concludes his address, the flags enveloping the statue will be released and the massive bronze figure will emerge through the folds of red, white and blue. At the same instant there will be an artillery salute from a battery of heavy guns near by, and the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" from the Marine band.

The unveiling will be followed by addresses on the life and deeds of Gen. McClellan delivered by Major Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, Maj. Gen.

Acid In The Blood.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost.

This mixture is said to relieve almost any case of Rheumatism, which is nothing more nor less than sour blood—too much acid in the system, which in damp, cool weather forms into minute crystals about the joints and muscles, causing the awful pain and misery of Rheumatism.

The above mixture is said to force the kidneys to purify and sweeten the blood, causing the Rheumatic pain and swelling to diminish with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach.

It is worth while giving this a trial, anyhow.

Fish Quickly Goes Bad.

Not any article of food undergoes poisonous change so rapidly as fish. And no stale food is so poisonous as stale fish. If any one fish is worse than another in this regard, it is mackerel. Fish should be cooked as soon after being caught as possible. And what cannot be eaten should be thrown away. Soured mackerel left in the larder for 24 hours is very unwholesome.

References to Age.

It has come to be a piece of rudeness to question one on age; it is tactful to ignore the delicate subject altogether, and accept what is offered by word of mouth or appearance. Women as well as men are as old as they look and seem, these days, and if we can manage to dress in a fashion that has no hint of age about it, we can pass muster among the keenest-eyed.

A Long Paid Pension.

The revolution put an end to much personal and family history in France. It spared the pension of Lord Shelburne, Abbe Morellet and, as it now appears, also that accorded in 1787 to the "posterity" of one killed in shooting by the dauphin, as to which the council of state of the republic has just pronounced a decision.

Franklin Pierce Veteran Firemen Vote To Raise Money

The Franklin Pierce Veteran Firemen's Association, at a regular meeting on Wednesday, voted to accept the offer of the Board of Trade and the Merchants Exchange to raise $1,000 of the $1,500 required before the city could get the New England Veteran Firemen's annual muster.

The Veteran Firemen discussed the matter from all points and decided that they could and would handle the muster, and they were confident that the necessary money could be raised.

There was much enthusiasm shown and the members of the Pierce Association will do everything in their power to get the muster.

The following soliciting committee was appointed to solicit funds for the muster: Charles H. Fote, William J. Gallagher and Joseph W. Akerman. William H. White was chosen treasurer of the fund for the Association.

The committee will work in conjunction with a soliciting committee appointed by the Board of Trade, and they will begin work at once, as only a few days remain before the convention of the delegates. This will be held in this city on Tuesday of next week and over a hundred delegates are expected from all over New England. They will select the date of the muster and also award the muster to the city that can pledge the necessary amount of money and get the delegates' votes.

CITY BRIEFS

This is a busy week socially. A third of 1907 has become history. Good luck to the new baseball team. The days have passed the fourteen hour mark. The April showers produced mayflowers, anyway. Have your shoes repaired by John Mott, 34 Congress street. Portsmouth will be a convention city this year, all right. The fireman's muster is an interesting topic of conversation. Have you seen the catchy colored point on the railroad station? Miss Mildred Holland in a new play at Music Hall this evening. Portsmouth admirers of Mr. Bryan keenly regret the fact that he will not visit this city. A dramatic event at Music Hall this evening, Mildred Holland in "A Paradise of Lies." The tug Piscataqua towed a barge down from Elliot laden with brick, on Wednesday afternoon. The telephone company is fast putting all its wires in cables in the compact part of the city. A fire at the Rockingham hotel will be much appreciated by the automobile traveling public. The contractors at the Garage are laying the granite sidewalk authorized by the city council. Portsmouth laborers are very scarce, many of them having been called for work on the navy yard. The mayflower seekers have been having excellent luck of late, despite the unfavorable weather for the blossoms. Auction at Bert Wood's stable, Vaughan street, Saturday, May 4, at ten o'clock; C. D. Hanscom, auctioneer. The annual directory of licensed insurance companies and agents has been issued by the state insurance department. The completion of the Atlantic Shore line connecting link will add to the possible number of outing trips by trolley. Don't forget the auction sale Saturday, May 4, at ten o'clock at Bert Wood's stable, Vaughan street; C. D. Hanscom, auctioneer. Joseph Bell, one of the oldest liquor dealers of the city, has retired from business after twenty-seven years at the Fleet street stand. Messrs. Bargains in carriages and harnesses at auction sale at Bert Wood's stable, Vaughan street, Saturday, May 4, at ten o'clock; C. D. Hanscom, auctioneer. Four deserters and two drunks were the occupants of the cellroom at the police station on Wednesday evening. The deserters were marines from the guard on the Southern. The brown tall moth gatherers are working on Miller avenue, having finished Richards avenue. They are making big headway through the city and in five weeks' time they will have covered the greater part of the city.

TENTH ANNUAL

Concert And Ball of Division
No. 2, A. O. H.PEIRCE HALL HAS LARGEST CROWD
OF THE SEASON

The tenth annual concert and ball of Division No. 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was held at Pierce hall on Wednesday evening, and there was the largest attendance of any gathering there this year. The galleries were packed long before the hour of the concert and the crowd on the floor was very large.

From eight until nine o'clock the following concert program was given:

1. Selection by Hoyt and Parker's Orchestra.
2. Solo.....Frank McKee
3. Recitation.....Thomas Lynch
4. Recitation.....Fred L. Trask
5. Cross Road Reel, Misses Nellie and Mary Cronin, Dennis Cronin and Frank Cronin.

The cross road reel, one of the old-fashioned Irish dances, was remarkably well done, and the four dancers, all cousins, were very graceful. The dance made a big hit with the large audience and they were loudly applauded.

Following the concert the grand march was started, led by William P. Miskell and wife, followed by George P. Scott and wife and nearly a hundred couples.

Dancing was then enjoyed until one o'clock. There was a list of nineteen dances, and the crowd remained until the last.

Among the prominent members of the order present were noticed. National Organizer George H. Sheehan of Boston, National President Matthew Cummings of Boston and State Secretary David T. Miskell of Salmon Falls. Guests were present from Dover and other towns.

The following were the officers of the dance:

Floor manager, William P. Miskell. Assistant floor managers—Geo. P. Scott, Michael Ahearn, Jeremiah Sweeney.

Aids—John Leary, M. P. Morrissey, Jas. W. Scott, Bartholomew Connors, Ed. A. O'Keefe, D. J. Leahy, Thos. McCaffrey, John Corcoran, Charles Quinn, Hugh McCann, James Doonan, John Quirk, Frank Cronin, Timothy Quinn.

Committee of arrangements—Wm. P. Miskell, William Casey, Dennis J. Leahy, M. P. Morrissey, Ed. A. O'Keefe, Edmund Quirk, W. A. A. Cullen, George P. Scott, Charles Quinn, Frank Cronin, Dennis Kelley, John Leary, Jeremiah Reagan.

STILL WAITING

And Roundhouse Men Are Likely to Continue to Wait

The roundhouse men of the Boston and Maine railroad have for several days been waiting and longing for that fancy dish of fish which their shopmates, Fray, Kellogg and Berry, were to catch and prepare for them as a result of a fishing trip in the vicinity of Dover Point.

The bait was bad that day, the fish scarce and it appears that Dick, a pioneer fisherman and navigator in these waters, got his friends up to the point only to tell tales of his boyhood days in the brick making district.

It was also a holiday for sculpins, which are said to have eaten lines, sinkers, bait and all.

DEATH-DEFYING FEAT

Performed By Stranger In
The Railroad YardCIRCUS STUNT WHICH ASTONISHED
THE WITNESSES

On Wednesday afternoon, men employed in the yard of the Boston and Maine railroad witnessed an act by a half drunken man which sent cold chills down their backs and caused them to turn pale with fright.

As train No. 94 left the station for Boston at five o'clock and was moving at a rapid pace by the plant of the forge company, a man was seen coming from behind a freight car and to the astonishment of several trackmen, brakemen and others he seized the iron handle which works the draw bar of the engine and swung himself bodily onto the pilot or cowcatcher of the fast moving locomotive.

Neither the fireman nor the engineer saw the daring feat and the man sat at ease on the pilot, unconcernedly waving his hands at the switchmen and others as the engine moved through the yard.

The crews of other trains standing in the yard shouted and gesticulated at Engineer Allen of the Boston train, but he did not realize what the trouble was until his train was near the foot of Cabot street, when he brought it to a quick stop and went out to look over the machine. Then, to his surprise, he discovered the man perched on the front with more airs than the master mechanic of the road.

The engineer was almost forced to give the stranger battle to induce him to descend and it was only by forcible means that the man on the pilot was brought to the ground.

Police Officer Burke took a trip up in the yard and found this dare devil freaking around among the cars and took him to the police station, where he gave the name of James Kelley and said he lived in Massachusetts.

Kelley, before he made this death-defying swing onto the train sneaked into the baggage car of the same train while it was in the depot and unseen by the baggage master secreted himself in a corner. He was discovered about five minutes before starting time and hustled out of the car.

He then made a dash up the yard and hid until the train came along, when he performed the most daring feat ever witnessed by railroad men here. Many think that Kelley is an old timer at jumping trains, but they would hardly expect such recklessness from a man with years of experience, drunk or sober, unless he wanted to end his life on the rail.
